Job Description

FEMALE TEACHER/INSTRUCTOR

Proctor Academy Mountain Classroom Program

Andover, NH

Proctor's Mountain Classroom Program is a co-ed academic, outdoor adventure, and travel program offered to grade 11-12 students. Two ten-week terms consist of an initial week or so of intensive academic focus to jump-start the English, Social Science, and Science followed by a six-week field component to further study, backpack, rock climb, paddle, or visit areas of cultural significance; a period at the end of the term is set aside to evaluate and process the classes and the experience.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Teaching experience and expertise in at least two of the academic courses offered (English, Social Science, Science(Ecology/Natural History), Expedition Skills); experience working with teenagers and facilitating group processes; effective communication skills; advanced outdoor skills and the ability to teach them; a good driving record; awareness of the demands of extended leadership in diverse settings; WFR certificate; CPR certificate; substantial experience rock climbing (able to fully manage a top rope site), backpacking or wilderness travel, some paddling experience helpful. Positive attitude and sense of humor are also required!!

BENEFITS:

Annual salary is dependent on experience. Medical coverage is provided.

AVAILABLE:

Position open for winter and spring, 2012-2013. Term dates are mid-November to early March, late March to early June, although prep work commences through the fall with instructors being on campus starting in mid October.

Instructors must attend a late August week-long faculty orientation and participate in a 6-day Wilderness orientation trip with incoming Proctor students in New Hampshire.

APPLICATION INFORMATION:

The application deadline is March 1, 2012. However, please submit your application materials as soon as possible as qualified candidates will be reviewed as their information becomes available.
